

I am filing in opposition to allowing power companies to use BPL to deliver broadband services over power lines. Based on interference studies, the current level of BPL technology does not adequately protect other users of the 2-80 MHz spectrum, including public safety agencies, military aircraft operators and broadcasters (including HAM radio operators).